Healthy Leadership

God created us with three needs: The need to be loved, to be valued, and to not be alone. These needs can only be fully met by God himself.

But for many, our sense of value and acceptance have become tied up in 'what we do' rather than 'who we are' as God's children. We define ourselves in terms of our achievements, status, and success having become 'human doings' rather than 'human beings' and it's destroying our souls.

As a pastor or leader, you are more than the sum of your ministry position at church. Listen to these words of Jesus...

Matthew 11:28-30 (TM)

Are you tired? Worn out? Burned out on religion? Come to me. Get away with me and you'll recover your life. I'll show you how to take a real rest. Walk with me and work with me-watch how I do it. Learn the unforced rhythms of grace. I won't lay anything heavy or ill-fitting on you. Keep company with me and you'll learn to live freely and lightly

Today, surrender afresh to the 'unforced rhythms of grace' and learn again to live freely and lightly.

Consider these words by Brett White:

The challenge is in not striving to surrender - it can't be another duty, task or hoop to jump through. It must just be. It is in the being that surrender is found. It is in understanding the intense, powerful, beautiful, grace-filled love that Jesus has for us. A love so deep, strong and empowering that when one grasps it, even a little, surrender becomes not just what you do, but who you are.
